President's Message

Stacey Baltes performed a stirring rendition of our national anthem as 95 players mounted carts and teed off the 5th Annual Rotary Golf Tournament for World Peace. Our members, Rotarians from around our District, friends and assorted ringers had the time of their lives raising north of $27,000 for Rotary International. Past President Greg Haeseler organized the entire event with the heart, soul, know-how and class that is his signature. More than 120 members were involved in the event one way or another; generous application of time, effort and cash characterized them all. Christine Tomlinson's Regency Palms was our signature sponsor. Brad Willingham's Boulevard Buick GMC donated a GMC Terrain for anyone fortunate enough to sink a hole in one. James and Sarah Naccarato donated all signage for the event, highlighting the various tee sponsors. Adriana Lanting and Vali De Vries started everyone off with a delicious Bloody Mary. Ken Jacobs organized reception holes hosted by The Wine Country, 4th & Olive, Parkers' Lighthouse, Lasher's Kitchen, Belmont Brewing Company and even the Red Leprechaun, whose architect Cameron Crockett is one of our newest members. A myriad of Rotarians like Lydia Vincenty-Lowell served ample fluid and snacks at these locations throughout the course. The 19th hole was swelling with excitement and live music performed by the Jazz Angels as a fresh shift of Rotary World Peace revelers arrived to hang out with the golfers. Special thanks to Dan Lipton for acting as Master of Ceremonies. Linda Treffry organized a superb silent auction that everyone participated in and enjoyed while raising a lot of money towards fresh water and ending Polio. Priscilla Hockett, wonderful wife of Rotarian Steve donated the flowers which brightened the party. John Lindberg, Sandy Simon and Steve Hockett raised $1400 in a wine pull that left 69 great bottles of wine in the hands of people who appreciate it. We can all be proud of a colossal success in a communal effort to make an enormous difference in the context of having a good time.
