This Week's Lunch Program - November 13, 2019

Ted Stankowich

Cunning Coyotes and Reducing Conflict with Humans and Pets

If you remember our speaker from CSULB an expert in sharks, we have another excellent CSULB Professor of Evolutionary Behavior whose lab studies a wide range of animals, including urban animals like skunks and coyotes...in addition to yes, naked mole rats !!

If you ever wondered how to repel these creatures from your territory, Dr. Ted may offer some answers by using what they fear most.

Today is Veterans Day. Always held on the 11th day of the 11th month and originally known as Armistice Day. The date was chosen because major hostilities of World War I were formally ended at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month in 1918. Other countries around the world also celebrate Armistice Day or Remembrance Day.

We remember all persons who have honorably served in the military and today, as we should every day, we show them our gratitude and appreciation.

Several of our very own Rotarians are proud veterans and we salute you.

The photo is of my own father's Honorable Discharge papers from the United States Navy on July 6, 1946, just in time for his 20th birthday.

Our newly-formed Rotaract Club at Long Beach City College is holding its first community service project. They are organizing a Thanksgiving Clothing Drive for LBCC students. You can either bring your softly-used clothes to our November 20 Rotary Lunch meeting --- drop them off with our Greeters (John Graham) before you come up to the Grand Salon. Or, if you prefer, you can drop them off at LBCC (LAC campus) November 18-22 in drop-off receptacles at the parking lot entrances.
