Urban development is well and good, but in a city as diverse as Long Beach, our communities have different needs that still need to be met. Come hear about how the urban development in Long Beach impacts all our different communities, good and bad.

David Salazar is the former Chief Facilities Executive for the Los Angeles Community College District, overseeing 9 campuses and the district's $4 billion capital improvement program. With over 25 years of facilities planning, design and construction experience in public and private universities and community colleges he has led complex projects, managed campus growth and incorporated sustainable planning principles on college campuses throughout California.

The time has come for our first meeting of the 2019/2020 year!

Fireworks have been admired with hearty "ooohs" and "ahhhs" and our nation's birthday was distinguished by a little gift from Mother Nature in the form of a rather significant earthquake, or two. Her own version of "rock and roll"! Fortunately, although felt strongly (unless you're me and missed the first one), no local damage was reported other than a reminder that "safe and sane" applies to earthquake preparation as well as fireworks!

Even though our first meeting of the year is still in the on-deck circle, several Rotarians are busy tending to the needs of our Club. Denise Dahlhausen and Connie Rivera wrote and submitted a grant request to the District; Laura Doyle and Bob Bond are working on a new website platform; Andy McFarland and team are already working on Camp Enterprise 2020; Donna Reckseen is working on Paul Harris recognitions; Nel Varenas is working on Rotary Revealed and your Board of Directors is preparing for the first Board meeting of the year.

I hope you'll join us as we kick off the 2019/2020 Rotary year at our meeting this week.

Mollie #103
